NW Children’s Fund is turning 30!

The dictionary defines a “generation” in human terms as 30 years. So NW Children’s Fund is amazed and proud to be able to say that literally a generation of children, adolescents and their families have been touched by the programs that we have funded. These children and their families have grown up safer, healthier and more resilient, thanks to the unflagging (and often under-recognized) work of the organizations we support.

In fact, NWCF has provided grants to more than 300 agencies in Western Washington since its inception in 1985. Some of our 1,250+ grants have helped fledgling organizations to get off the ground, others have provided much-needed funding to expand programs and services, and yet others have ensured that effective established programs continue to offer life-changing services to children in need.

When asked, NW Children’s Fund grant recipients often say that they wouldn’t be able to deliver critical services to their clients without our support. NWCF funding has also helped agencies to expand at key junctures in their own growth. Says Mimi Siegel, Executive Director of Kindering:

Kindering received its first NWCF grant 20 years ago. ... As our Eastside community has evolved, we have recognized the increasing needs of infants and children at risk of neglect or abuse. NWCF has been right alongside Kindering and our families, enabling us to pilot several highly effective projects to address feeding issues, parent education, and foster care... Each and every success began with a start-up grant from NWCF. That's quite a track record.

Another crucial aspect of NWCF’s grantmaking process has been to help the grantees become stronger and clearer about their own work. Roxanne Mennes, Executive Director of Family Law CASA, noted this about the value of NWCF support:

NWCF took the time to explore the vision of Family Law CASA in its infancy... NWCF could have opted to support more traditional, proven programming. Instead, NWCF has not only supported Family Law CASA financially, but NWCF has pushed Family Law CASA to succeed by asking probing questions, encouraging measurable data, and serving as a model for clarity of mission and strategic thinking.

Of course, the heartbeat of NW Children’s Fund, the thing that keeps us inspired every day, is hearing the stories of the children, teens and families whose lives have been measurably and meaningfully changed by the programs we support. Here is just one from the HomeStep Family Program of Compass Housing Alliance:

Having aged out of foster care, 21-year-old “L” described her life as “chaotic.” Coming into HomeStep from living with her young daughter in a car, she continued to face many obstacles. In time, with her HomeStep Advocate’s ongoing encouragement and referral to resources, she began to claim some victories. She found a good childcare program for her daughter. She secured a job at another childcare and discovered an interest in a career in early childhood education. On the job she began to learn about child development and effective parenting and this boosted her confidence and abilities as a mom. NWCF grants help ensure that HomeStep can continue to support “L” as she makes this difficult journey toward stable housing, maturity and a more promising future.

Mark your calendars! Thanksgiving is coming early this year.

On November 19, 2014, local restaurants and services will be donating a percentage of their proceeds to NW Children’s Fund, in honor of its 30th anniversary and the World Day for Prevention of Child Abuse.

What do YOU need to do?
Enjoy yourself! Gather your friends and family and spend a little money, while raising up a ton of good will. Visit nwcf.org/making-hope-work to see a list of participating vendors.

Together WE make hope work!
We hope that on Nov. 19th you’ll join us and our generous vendors for a day of good fun and good times for a great cause!
A Message from NWCF’s New Board President

Dear Friends,

NW Children’s Fund is honored to be celebrating 30 years of making hope work for our community’s children. We teed off our celebrations last month with NWCF’s annual Golf Classic, including a special performance by The Romantics. What a rocking good time! You’ll be hearing about more celebratory and informative anniversary events throughout the year. Stay tuned!

In this milestone year, NWCF is laying a foundation to change even more children’s lives as we move forward. What won’t change is our unfailing dedication to providing hope, safety and a voice to vulnerable children and fragile families. Every day we strive to fulfill our mission of breaking the cycle of abuse and neglect, and to protect every child’s inalienable right to a happy and safe childhood.

We take this mission very seriously. We are devoted to finding and funding the most effective programs working throughout the continuum of abuse and neglect. Our high-impact grants are carefully reviewed and analyzed to maximize the value of your contribution.

Thank you for your part in making a meaningful difference in the lives of children for 30 years. We hope you’ll join us in expanding our impact, this year and in the years to come!

Sincerely,

Sandy Cocanour
Board President
NW Children’s Fund

Save the date!

NW Children’s Fund’s 30th Annual Gala at Fremont Studios will be an exciting celebration of three decades of hope. Join us!

Total Awarded: $761,400
Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Friends:

This year NW Children’s Fund celebrates three decades of igniting philanthropy to transform the lives of vulnerable children and families. Thanks to your generosity and trust, we’ve been able to invest in over 300 critical programs since our inception, bringing our cumulative investment in creating healthier, more resilient families to $13.3 million!

As we embark upon our thirtieth year, we remain strong and thriving. Below are highlights of our fiscal year ending July 31, 2014.

• NW Children's Fund distributed $761,400 in grants to 66 dynamic programs for at-risk children and families, and conducted a periodic update and in-depth review of our grantmaking priorities and strategies.

• Our fundraising exceeded expectations – including a record-breaking 29th Annual Auction and Gala – and the value of the Mary Ketcham Kerr Endowment for NWCF’s operations surpassed the $1M mark for the first time.

• Looking ahead to growing our impact, we engaged in an comprehensive organizational assessment that both affirmed the strength of our mission and model, and helped us to identify and articulate our future direction.

As ever, NWCF remains committed to the highest standards of integrity in stewarding our donors’ gifts. We endeavor always to operate efficiently and effectively, and to continue searching for ways to make life safe for all children.

As you read this Annual Report, please know that your partnership and investment with NW Children's Fund are the cornerstones of our life-changing work. Thank you for your continued confidence and trust.

Warm Regards,

Victoria Peattie Helm
Executive Director
NW Children's Fund
