

NW Children's Foundation

Presents our 2022 Forum

Buffering Intergenerational Trauma: Child Well-Being and Community-Based Resilience

We invite you to join us as a key partner in the 2022 NWCF Forum – Buffering Intergenerational Trauma: Child Well-Being and Community-Based Resilience – taking place virtually on Tuesday, February 1. We are thrilled to feature developmental scientist Dr. Kandace Thomas as our keynote speaker. Nationally recognized for her innovative work in child development, trauma-informed care and mindfulness, Dr. Thomas's focus is squarely on racial and social justice, particularly in the realm of mental health.

The Forum is a unique opportunity to engage with an important and timely topic, and to be recognized by an extensive network of community leaders, child-welfare experts, influential nonprofits and policymakers. This year's event will be held virtually, and we anticipate expanding the audience beyond the 1500 participants at our 2021 Forum.
